

4 reasons your business needs Zero Trust security

There are four key use cases for implementing a Zero Trust architecture as your security model. Learn about the potential benefits.

While there are many benefits to a Zero Trust security model, organizations typically benefit most using these four business cases:

 Every 2 seconds

Combating ransomware

How often ransomware is expected to attack a business, consumer, or device by 2031

Cybersecurity Ventures Ransomware Market Report

70%

Protecting a hybrid workforce

According to a Gartner® report, “As per a Gartner forecast assumption, we estimate that, by 2025, at least 70% of new remote access deployments will be served predominantly by ZTNA as opposed to VPN services, up from less than 10% at the end of 2021.”

Gartner Emerging Technologies: Adoption Growth Insights for Zero Trust Network Access, April 8, 2022, Nat Smith, Mark Wah, Christian Canales

PCI DSS, HIPAA,
SWIFT, GDPR

Achieving compliance

Some of the regulatory mandates with which businesses can more easily achieve compliance using a Zero Trust security model

One platform for all your Zero Trust needs

Akamai can meet all your Zero Trust requirements with one solution set

Segmentation

Secure Internet Access Enterprise

Zero Trust Network Access

MFA